Methodism in Georgetown dates back almost to the laying out of the city, it being recorded that Methodist preaching was introduced within her boundaries as early as 1772, by Robert Williams, an Englishman, while on his way to one of the coast towns of Virginia. He was accompanied at the time by William Walters, a native preacher, who one year later was received into the regular ministry, becoming the first native American itinerant. It is recorded that the coccasion of this visit Mr. Williams was allstened to by a large roomful of people, who behaved with decency. The first Methodists who worked for the establish.

men now walking the streets unemployed by importing the element which has so largely, in other places, supplanted Ameri-can labor. And because times are hard and work difficult to obtain, is that a rea-son why, of all others, day laborers should be crowded nearer to the starvation line? be crowded nearer to the starvation line? AUGUST DONATH

Mrs. S. F. Guild, who is the national superintendent of work among foreigners, will deliver an address before the W. C. T. at the Vermont Avenue Lutheran Church tomorrow evening. Mrs. Gutld has had large experience in her work, and will undoubtedly prove interesting.

The ladies who were in charge of the recent performance by children of "Pinafere" and "The Pirates of Penzance" will soon make their report, which will show that their efforts were unusually successful. A substantial addition will be made to the funds of the Homeopathic Hospital, for whose benefit the performances were given. The members of the committee in charge express themselves as exceedingly well der. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest United States Governmen sweet singing and remarkably clever acting of little Emma Heinrichs, who sang "Mabel" in "The Pirates." They mention her especially, because, in their opinion, her good work did not receive the commendation it deserved in the published notices.
